

The Library @ Pierce College

ProQuest Newspapers

Search this database for newspaper articles.

SUBJECTS Nearly all! Whether you're in a Business, Biology, History, Geology, or Anthropology class you'll find useful articles!!!

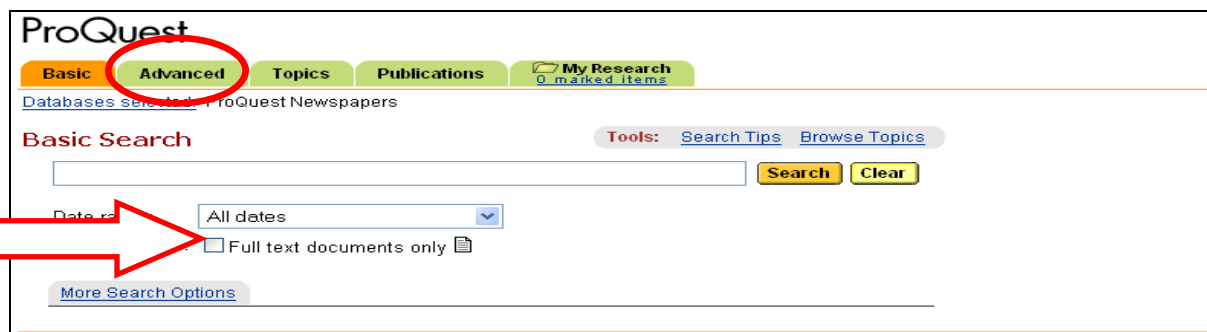

START Visit the Pierce College Library Homepage. Click on "Online Databases". Scroll down and click on ProQuest Newspapers.

BASIC / DEFAULT SEARCH

Use Basic Search for searching different kinds of ideas at once. Unlike Google and other Internet search engines, the ProQuest Newspapers database demands that you use "AND" in between words you search.

Unless you're searching a commonly used phrase (e.g. road rage, stem cells, college students, or hate speech), your best bet is to use AND in between words you search. You can also try "Advanced Search" (see below). Check your spelling.

Yes, you can EMAIL yourself the Full Text of articles!

The screenshot shows the ProQuest Basic Search interface. The 'Advanced' tab is highlighted with a red circle. A red arrow points to the 'Full text documents only' checkbox, which is currently unchecked. A text box contains the search term 'staph'. Below the search box is a date range dropdown set to 'All dates'. A 'More Search Options' link is visible at the bottom.

TIP (click)

ADVANCED SEARCH

The screenshot shows the ProQuest Advanced Search interface. The 'Advanced' tab is highlighted. The search terms 'staph' and 'MRSA' are entered in the first row, and 'infection' is entered in the second row. The dropdown between the first two rows is set to 'OR', and the dropdown between the second and third rows is set to 'AND'. A red arrow points to the 'Full text documents only' checkbox, which is checked. A red arrow points to the search options, with a text box explaining: 'By separating search terms and using the "OR" / "AND" options, we can improve our search results.' A 'More Search Options' link is visible at the bottom.

TIP (click)

The Library @ Pierce College

SEARCH RESULTS PAGE & ADDITIONAL FEATURES:

SUGGESTED TOPICS (see below)

Suggested Topics hyperlinks appear above search results, but only explore these after reviewing your results page, as they can sometimes lead you in different directions. Nevertheless, they can be very useful!

The screenshot shows the ProQuest search results page. At the top, there are navigation tabs: Basic, Advanced, Topics, Publications, and My Research (1 marked item). Below the tabs, it says "Databases selected: ProQuest Newspapers". The main heading is "Results - powered by ProQuest® Smart Search". Underneath, there is a "Suggested Topics" section with a link to "About" and a list of topic hyperlinks: Infections, Infections AND Bacteria, Infections AND Drug resistance, Infections AND Antibiotics, Infections AND Hospitals, and Infections AND Public health. Below this, it states "860 documents found for: (staph) OR (MRSA) AND (infection)" with links for "Refine Search" and "Set Up Alert". There are buttons for "All sources", "Magazines", and "Newspapers". A "Mark all" section shows "1 marked item" with options for "Email / Cite / Export" and "Show all documents". The search results list three items, with the third item, "Parents Are Asked To Take Kids Home After Staph Case: [FINAL Edition]", selected with a checkmark. A red arrow points from the text "Click to place in My Research folder" to the checkmark.

Click to place in My Research folder

Two "My Research" folder icons are shown. The first is orange and labeled "3 marked items". The second is green and labeled "1 marked item".

MY RESEARCH FOLDER (green or orange: stores articles for easy emailing and printing!)

CLICK ON "EMAIL MARKED DOCUMENTS" TO VIEW INSIDE (see below)

The screenshot shows the "My Research" folder in ProQuest. At the top, there are navigation tabs: Basic, Advanced, Topics, Publications, and My Research (3 marked items). Below the tabs, it says "Databases selected: ProQuest Newspapers". The main heading is "My Research" with a link to "Back to Results". Below this, there is a list of actions: "Create your bibliography" to email, print, or download; "Email marked documents" with a bibliography; "Export citations" into EndNote, ProCite, RefWorks or Reference Manager; and "Create a web page" with links to your articles, searches, and publications. Below this, there is a "Marked Documents" section with a "Mark / Clear all | Delete unmarked items" link. The list shows three items, all selected with checkmarks: "Parents Are Asked To Take Kids Home After Staph Case: [FINAL Edition]", "Wash Your Hands, and Don't Shave Your Legs: Advice to Avoid Infection", and "WSJ(10/23) Putting Superbugs On The Defensive". A red arrow points from the text "TIP (email)" to the "Email marked documents" link.

TIP (email)

The Library @ Pierce College

CITATION FORMAT → For help with bibliographies & works cited

ProQuest

Basic Advanced Topics Publications My Research 3 marked items

Databases selected: ProQuest Newspapers

Email Documents << Back

Citation style: APA

Format:

- Brief citation -citation and link
- Document Summary -citation, indexing, abstract
- Full text or Text+Graphics -citation, indexing, abstract, images, and link
- Full Text - PDF (if available) -citation, indexing, abstract, attached PDF, and link

Send email as:

- HTML (not supported by all email programs)
- Plain text (compatible with all email programs)

Your name: YT

Email address: love-pierce-library@mail.com (enter a single email address)

Subject: sweet articles

Message:

Send Email

1) Select the required citation style for easy bibliographies; be sure to double check as style rules update. 2) Enter your email correctly since you're emailing it to yourself. 3) Select PDF, if you want the article as an attachment.

For additional help, see the online tutorial at:

<http://www.piercecollege.com/students/Library/> and/or ask the Reference Librarian.

10/2007 PR & LV